A GUN WITH A HISTORY.

An Old-Time Cannon Which Was in Great Demand in the Early Days of California.

Sacramento Bee.

In front of Pioneer Hall, on Seventh street, between J and K, there are exhibited two cannon. One of them was the first cannon ever fired from Sutter's Fort, and was presented to the Society by old Knickerbocker Fire Company, No. 5, and the other has painted upon it:

This gun was brought from South America For General John A. Sutter, who mounted it on his fort in 1841. Presented to the Society of California Pioneers, May 25, 1877. By Captain John Nye.

This latter gun had a lively experience in this county, even after it had concluded its service on Sutter's Fort. It 1851 Dallas A. Kneass, who was a trader at Mormon Island, came to Sacramento and bought the gun, paying one ounce of gold dust therefor. He bought it for the purpose of lending eclat to a Fourth of July celebration to be given at Mormon Island that year. The gun was

ALLOWED TO STAND ABOUT

Until 1853, when A. P. Catlin purchased it, paying $24. The gun was then used for years in Fourth of July celebrations at mining camps thereabouts. On the approach of each succeeding celebration of the nation's birthday, the miners would devise schemes for capturing the gun. The Mormon Islanders had all preparations made for a rousing celebration in 1854 and were to begin firing the gun promptly at 12 o'clock on the night of the 3d. Shortly before midnight the boys went down to Folsom for "just one more drink," and when they returned to the hill where they had left the cannon, the gun was gone! Lanterns were procured, and an investigation revealed wagon tracks in the vicinity. The indignant Mormon Islanders were about to set out upon the trail, when "boom! boom! boom!" came the sound of artillery through the canyons, and the boys knew that the old cannon was DOING PATRIOTIC SERVICE AT PERRY CITY.

The Mormon Islanders returned to Folsom and drowned their sorrows and rage in the tanglefoot for which that town was then, and still is, famous. Nobody cared for the gun until the following Fourth, when the Mormon Islanders laid plans for its recapture. They charged upon the artillery about 3 o'clock one afternoon, when it was known the Perry City miners would be at work, loaded the gun into a wagon, and took it back to Mormon Island, where it rang out at the celebration of the Fourth. The next to get away with the gun were the miners of Beal's Bar, and after some years Captain John Nye took possession of the cannon and took it to his ranch near Folsom. Everybody knew that the gun belonged to Catlin, but the latter made no effort to recover it, as the gun become dangerous and had already maimed several miners. In 1862, the Folsomites had made extraordinary arrangements to celebrate the Fourth and the firing of the cannon was to be one of the attractions.

THE MINERS OF ASHLAND STOLE THE GUN,

However, and took it across the river. The Folsomites resolved to recapture the gun at all hazards, and the Ashlanders, hearing of this, took the cannon out about a mile from town and felled a large and brushy pine tree on it. Judge Thompson, of Folsom, bribed a small boy to disclose where the gun was hid, and the cannon was resurrected in time to take part in the celebration. In 1876 Mr. Catlin suggested to Captain Nye that the gun be given to the Sacramento Pioneers. The former said he would relinquish all claim to the gun and the presentation could be made in Nye's name. The Captain consented, and the cannon was brought to Sacramento by a party of Folsomites, who were en route to San Francisco to take part in the Centennial Fourth. The cannon was thrown off on the R street levee, and and laid there for months, when finally some railroad boys put it on a flat car and

TOOK IT BACK TO FOLSOM.

Captain Nye was indignant at the treatment the gun had received, and he took the ancient instrument of war back to his ranch. In a year or so Catlin renewed the proposition to Nye, and he again consented that the cannon should be presented to the Pioneers. Before the arrangments could be completed, however, Captain Nye was gathered to his fathers, and the gun was inventoried in the articles of his estate as "old iron." Add. C. Hinkson was administrator of the estate, and when spoken to about the gun, he agreed that Catlin might have the gun if he would pay the few dollars for which it was appraised, so that the accounts would come out square. Catlin consented to purchase his own gun, but he did not forget the promise that the cannon should be presented to the Pioneers in the name of Captain John Nye.

STRANGLED WITH A BAG.

A Husband Returning From Work Finds His Wife's Dead Body.

Rochester, N. Y., Democrat.

"Come over quick, McKee, for God's sake. My wife has been murdered."

These words were spoken shortly after 6 o'clock last night by Alonzo A. Stone, as pale and breathless he rushed into William E. McKee's house at East Rochester. McKee hastily put on his coat and accompanied Stone to his home, which is only a stone's throw from McKee's and faces on Hayward avenue. When the two men reached the house they went down into the cellar and there lying in one corner close to the wall they found the lifeless body of Ada Stone, Alonzo A. Stone's wife. She lay on her back with her right hand thrown out until it touched the cellar wall and the left hand folded across her breast. Around her neck was what appeared to be a handkerchief twisted tightly and clotted with blood. Her clothing was not badly disarranged and save where her swollen tongue protuded between her teeth and clots of blood marred the whiteness of her skin, her expression was a perfectly natural one. Her neck was swollen and it was evident that death resulted from strangulation.

Leaving the body in exactly the same position, McKee started out to find an officer and Stone stayed at the house. McKee found officer Cummings, who called the patrol wagon. The wagon came and with it Sergeant Zimmerman and Officers Cummings and Siefferd. After looking the ground over Stone was taken to the police station. Then Detectives Kavanaugh and Furtherer were detailed to work up the case and Coroner Sharpe notified.

The house that was occupied by Stone and his wife is a two story frame building on the left side of Hayward avenue facing north and fully half a block from any other dwelling save that occupied by McKee directly in its rear. In front of the house a little to the left and on the other side of the road is a thick patch of trees and directly in front and reaching nearly to Goodman street are fields of corn. Altogether the location is one that is lonely and secluded and could the murderer choose the spot for his foul deed he could not do better than select this.

When a Democrat and Chronicle reporter reached the house he found it surrounded by a large crowd of neighbors. Inside were Detectives Kavanaugh and Furtherer, Dr. Hayward, Coroner Sharpe and Officers Fitzpatrick. The doors were kept locked and no one else admitted. The reporter, guided by the light, went down into the cellar and found the body lying as already described, surrounded by the detectives and Dr. Hayward. The woman had been turned on her back and upon doing so it was found that the right temple, extending downward toward the eye, was a deep, clean cut, made by some sharp instrument. Beneath the head was a pool of blood. The long brown hair was matted with blood, and the woman's waist was stained in one or two places with small spots by the same fluid. As she lay there her purple and swollen tongue protuding between her teeth, her eyes wide open and her face disfigured with blood, the expression on her face as it was turned up to the light was such a one as one might have thought would rest on the face of a woman who has been struck by one she loved. Not pain, not anger, only surprise and grief. She wore a dark blue skirt with small polka dots of white and a calico waist. Her sleeves were rolled up above the elbow and on the third finger of the left hand was a gold band ring. Around her neck was tied a cloth flour bag such as some of the newer brands of flour are now put up in. The bag was twisted around and tied in one knot. The woman's hair was taken in its cruel folds and it was drawn so tightly that it took a strong man to loosen it. On each side of the bag were spots of blood as if the hands of the person who strangled the woman were bloody. A critical examination was made by Dr. Hayward and he expressed his opinion that she had not been assaulted. Her underclothing was all in its proper place and not torn nor soiled. Her left leg was doubled at the knee and the dress nor shoes showed no marks of being dragged across the cellar floor. A critical examination of the cellar floor was made by Detectives Kavanaugh and Furtherer and spots of blood were found from the body to the cellar door. A large spot was found near the foot of the cellar stairs and on the stairs themselves were discovered other small spots. It was perfectly evident that the woman had been murdered up stairs or out of doors and carried into the cellar.

In the kitchen above the cellar there was nothing to denote a struggle. In the sink the dinner dishes were placed ready for washing. The woman had been washing and the clean clothes were piled on a table in one corner of the room.

A baby carriage was pushed up against the table and a chair stood before the pantry as if the woman had stepped up to get something out of the pantry. Near the sink a handful of hair, evidently from the dead woman's head, was found, but it could not be ascertianed whether it was pulled out forcibly or not.

The last time that Mrs. Stone was seen alive by any one, save her husband and the man who killed her, was between 10 and 11 o'clock yesterday morning, when Mrs. McKee saw her. Mrs. Stone came out and called her little boy Raymond, who is 3 years old. She was unable to find him and came over to Mrs. McKee's house. Raymond was there and Mrs. Stone took him home to take his dress off and wash it as she explained to Mrs. McKee. Sure enough the little dress was found among the clothes on the table clean and dry, ready to be sprinkled. Dr. Haywood said that when he came at 6:15 o'clock the body was stiff and might have been dead one hour or five. It was impossible to tell just how long it was since life became extinct.

How to Keep Cool.

A Nebraska correspondent tells the New York 'World,' how to keep cool. When the thermometer runs up to the nineties or one hundred, and people feel as if almost prostrated, if they will mix a quarter of a teaspoonful of pulverized cayenne pepper in half a teacupful of milk or sweetened water and drink it, they will find they can stand the heat ever so much better. This raises the internal heat to an equilibrium with the atmosphere and makes one stronger and more comfortable. It cools and more effectually than iced drinks or stimulants. It has been used in our family for three generations. In case of sunstroke this is a remedy that gives almost instantaneous relief. The prostration experienced in hot days is caused by a preponderance of the external heat over the internal, and the more cold drinks one swallows the more weakness and lassitude. Cold drink in hot weather should be be used very cautiously and in small quantities. Spirituous liquors will stimulate only for transient relief, but pepper holds its own and does not cause thirst afterward.

Indispensable to the Toilet.

Darbys Prophylactic Fluid cures chafing, eruptions and inflamation of all kinds; cures inflamed or sore eyes; relieves pains from bites or stings of insects and sore feet; destroys all taint of perspiration or offensive smell from the feet or any part of the body; cleanses and whitens the skin. Used as a dentifrice it purifies the breath; preserves the teeth and cures toothache; sore gums and canker. A little of the Fluid in the water used in bathing is very refreshing and especially beneficial to the sick.

Excitement in Texas.

Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Texas, by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless he could not turn in bed, or raise his head; everybody said he was dying of consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery was sent him. Finding relief he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills; by the time he had taken two boxes of Pills and two bottles of the Discovery, he was well and had gained in flesh thirty-six pounds. Trial bottles of this Great Discovery for consumption free at E. Weguer's Drug Store.

CLOSING THE WAR.

The Last Charge Was On a Brandy Barrel and the Last Shot Was Over It.

The man who claims to have ordered the last shot fired on the Confederate side during the late unpleasantness is A. B. Faircloth of Camilla, Ga., a gentleman as modest as he is brave. The incident was told us by Captain D. H. Sanders, an old comrade-in-arms of Mr. Faircloth, and forms an unique feature in the unwritten history of the great struggle. Mr. Faircloth belonged to Company C, Second Georgia Cavalry. This regiment was for some time associated with Terry's famous Texas Rangers, whose exploits are among the most highly prized traditions of the war. The intimacy that grew up between these two commands was very close and tender, and remained unbroken to the end. A Ranger would succor a Second Georgia Cavalryman in distress as quick as he would his own brother. They fought together, bivouacked together, and together went on many a wild, adventurous raid.

Lee had surrendered. Johnston had surrendered. Only Kirby Smith remained at the head of an armed resistance. The Confederacy was in its death throes. Wheeler determined not to surrender his men, but to force his way across the country to join Smith west of the Mississippi. To this end he procured the removal of his command from Johnston's army, and started upon one the most hazardous retreats in the annals of the war. While everwhere Confederate troops were grounding their arms, taking the oath of allegiance to the United States Government and returning to their homes, this little band under their gallant leader refused to lower the Stars and Bars.

Wheeler's bold movement was kept a profound secret, known only to his own men and General Johnston. All thought that the war was over. The Federals came freely into the lines of their late foes, and there was a general intermingling of the "blue and gray." It fell to the lot of Company C to guard Wheeler's rear. A barrel of brandy was discovered just inside the reserve picket line, and these old veterans, with true soldierly instinct soon tapped it, and were fast getting into a hilarious condition. The Lieutenant in command of the picket guards was in a short time unable to distinguish a Confederate from a "Yank," and was relieved by Mr. Faircloth, the Orderly Sergeant. The aroma of that brandy was wafted to the olfactories of the Union soldiers, and soon a troop of cavalry was seen coming at headlong charge upon that barrel. Sergeant Faircloth obeyed the orders of his chief, and the dashing squadron was received with a volley from their picket line. They were dumbfounded, and without returning the fire showed a white flag. The Sergeant advanced to parley with the bearer of the flag of truce.

"What the deuce did you fire for? Don't you know the war is over?" This was jerked out by the spokesman on the other side.

"I obeyed orders," calmly replied the Sergeant. "No troops can pass my line."

"But man, Johnston has surrendered, and the war is over. Come, let us pass; we want to taste that brandy over there."

"I must carry out my orders," stoutly maintained Sergeant Faircloth, "and if your men advance they will be fired upon. But," he said, "I am expecting orders calling in my men every minute, and if you will wait perhaps you may get a drop of the brandy."

Strange to say, the troop waited and the order came. Then there was a grand rush for the barrel—when "Johnny Reb" and "Yank" got on a drunk together.

This was the last shot fired in the late war, and the incident, now published for the first time, will be read with interest by those who participated in the novel scene, as well as the general public. To complete the story it only remains to tell that, acting under the advice of Johnston, Wheeler gave up his daring attempt, and, turning over his men to the brigade, regimental and company commanders to act as they saw fit, gathered about him a few bold spirits, and started to join the head of the Confederacy in his effort to escape his pursuers.—Greensboro Herald.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Sult, druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles and was cured of rheumatism of ten year's standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Bellville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years experience is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or blood. Only half a dollar a bottle at Wegner's Drug Store.

HOW ABOUT A CANNERY.

In these columns will be found two communications from citizens of this valley, in which is urged, among other things, the erection of a fruit cannery in Sonoma. For a number of years the INDEX-TRIBUNE has advocated this very same thing, but nothing has come of it. But time for action on the part of the people of Sonoma Valley has now arrived. It is all well enough to talk boom, but with tons of fruit rotting on the ground, where it has fallen from the trees, it is high time to agitate the erection of canneries. For a number of years our farmers have been engaged in planting young orchards. Many of these will come into full bearing next year, and if some provision is not made for canning our fruit at home our farmers will be out thousands upon thousands of dollars.

The establishment of a cannery in Sonoma for next season's crop means everything for us. It will furnish a market for Sonoma Valley fruit right at the doors of the farm houses. It will give employment to large numbers of people of both sexes during the spring and summer months, and the money paid to these and the fruit growers will make times flush with us, and more than all, such an enterprise will bring with it the long-delayed and wished-for boom.

That an enterprise of this kind can be established here there is not the least doubt. All that is needed is for some one with push and drive to take the lead in this matter and agitate the formation of a joint stock company to erect a cannery to handle next year's fruit crop. The young orchards, now fast coming into bearing, demand that immediate action be taken. Sllurians stand aside! Now, who will take the lead in this matter?

SONOMA IN THE LEAD.

THE city papers all agree that the Sonoma Valley Exhibit at the Mechanics' Fair, which opened in San Francisco on the 1st inst., is one of the most striking, varied and extensive in the Fair. The exhibit is divided into three sections, to-wit: Sonoma, Glen Ellen and Los Guilucos, all of which do credit to one of the most fruitful valleys in the State. Heretofore Sonoma Valley has exhibited her products with those of other sections of the county, and although making fine displays and capturing many of the medals and prizes the credit has always been taken by Santa Rosa and the county. Tiring of this sort of business, Sonoma Valley conceived the idea of an independent exhibit in order to show to the outside world that she is capable of holding her own in this display with the richest counties in the State, even if she is but a small portion of the fifth county of California, and we are going to do it, too.

IF POSSIBLE.

THE Alta of the 1st inst., in speaking of the Mechanics' Fair, which opened in San Francisco on that day says:

"Mrs. E. O. Smith of San Jose has charge of the arrangement of the Santa Clara exhibit, and her frequent glances at the work being done by the Sonoma Valley representatives displays her intention of outdoing them in the matter of artistic arrangement, if possible."

If possible! "Ah, there's the rub." Now, my dear madam, we fear you have undertaken a hopeless task in essaying to outdo the the Sonoma Valley Exhibit. In the language of "Artemus Ward" "it can't be did."

GOVERNOR BARTLETT'S condition is very precarious and his life is despaired of.

R. D. Moore of the Occidental keeps a first-class house.

THE LADY OF THE WHITE HOUSE

WHEN a person attains a position of prominence in this country his or her geneology is at once traced out, which otherwise would have remained in oblivion, and it is at once brought to the light of day. The following from the Cape Cod Item, in relation to Mrs. Cleveland, is a case in point:

"The writer has it from good authority that Mrs. Cleveland, the wife of the President, is one of the same stock as was Com. Oliver Hazard Perry of Lake Erie fame and also the same stock as Rev. Fred. Freeman of Sandwich, author of the "History of Cape Cod." The families of a generation well remembered by many now living (those of John, William, Solomon and Elisha Perry, 1st, of this place) were of this same Perry stock, and the families of the late Elisha Perry, 2d, and of the Keenes of Bourne are of the same blood in the Freeman line. Mrs. Cleveland's great-great-grandmother was Elizabeth Raymond Perry, a sister of Christopher Raymond Perry, U. S. N., who was the father of Com. O. H. Perry. Edward Perry, her ancestor, married Mary Freeman, daughter of Edmund Freeman, who was for seven years Governor of Plymouth Colony. A great-grandmother of Rev. Fred. Freeman was a Perry before marriage."

Thus it will be seen that the wife of the President of the United States is a descendant of Puritan and Revolutionary stock. Therefore, if during the present administration our country becomes involved in war with another nation, the old Oliver Hazard Perry stock will no doubt assert itself in the domestic council of President Cleveland and strengthen the back-bone of the administration.

THE Sacramento Bee thus describes a Silurian: "Silurian was used to designate one of the geologic ages; the age of mollusks and other invertebrate. An invertebrate is a class of animals without a backbone. A mollusk is a fossil. Consequently when we speak of a Silurian we speak of a fossilized old coward, one who is afraid to venture on anything progressive for fear that the brushing away of the cobwebs may expose his brain to the tender mercies of a critical inspection. Like a crab, the Silurian always travels backwards. A step in advance might be an invitation to the heart disease. And as the heart of a Silurian is a very tender and delicate morsel, the shock might prove fatal. Dear reader, you know a Silurian or two now, do you not?"

NOT FOR SALE.

The Donahue System to Remain in the Hands of Its Present Owners.

S. F. Call, September 1st.

Railroad circles during the last two or three months have been agitated from time to time by reports and rumors prophesying a change in proprietorship of the Donahue system. The rumors, which have for the most part come from seemingly reliable sources, have pointed to the Southern Pacific as a possible purchaser, and the fact that this system is encroaching on the territory of the San Francisco and North Pacific has lent the report a strong color of probability. In conservation last evening with a Call reporter Colonel J. Mervyn Donahue emphatically denied the statement that there existed even a probability of a change in the ownership of the road. "I have been asked frequently of late," he said, "to name a price for the road and system. My reply has invariably been, however, that the line is not for sale. As far as the Southern Pacific is concerned, I have no objection to the construction by them to Santa Rosa. It simply builds up my territory and will increase my business. Another statement I desire to contradict," continued Colonel Donahue, "is that I have been purchasing land in the the vicinity of Santa Rosa with a view to obstructing the ingress of the Southern Pacific. This is not the case. The only land I have lately purchased there is two blocks in the vicinity of my own depot and which the road ought to have had years ago. On this land we will erect a depot similar to that at San Rafael, into which our trains will run." Nothing had yet been decided, he said, with regard to the construction of a line to Napa. A pressing invitation had been extended to him by the people of that county, asking him to build in there. Colonel Donahue also referred to his intended visit to the East. He intends while absent, he said, to purchase some fresh rolling stock for the railroad; also to examine the Davenport water-works in Iowa, which were now very nearly completed and which belonged to the estate.

BEAUTIFUL SONOMA VALLEY.

The Place for Pleasant Homes---A Cannery Needed.

EDITOR INDEX-TRIBUNE: Is the beautiful valley of Sonoma asleep? One would think so from the unconcern of its inhabitants to the stir that is going on around them. Every place is having a boom. Here not a riffle. Perhaps it is because the people are so well satisfied with their paradise they do not care to invite others to share it with them. No place in the State has a more salubrious climate—none that has more old people to prove to those seeking a healthful residence that this is the paradise claimed for it. With the near prospect of easy and quick communication with San Francisco and the outside world, few, if any, places in the State offer more inducements for country homes than this beautiful and fruitful valley. Here all the semi tropical fruits grow in profusion and the vine has its natural home. Who has not heard of Sonoma wine? The very name is a talisman for good, pure, health-giving wine, a that every place in the city where wine is sold the legend "Sonoma Wine" finds a place over the door.

The mountains or high hills that enclose the valley lend a charm to the landscape and from their heights the peaceful, picturesque valley forms a view almost ideal in loveliness. Some of the finest private residences in the State are located here, notably among them being the elegant mansion of Mrs. Robert C. Johnson, where refined taste and elegance combined has made a veritable Eden, while Nature has furnished living springs to add to its charms. These springs have medicinal and life-giving qualities. The Lachryma Mon e (mountain tear) the residence of General Vallejo, nestles at the foot of a spur of one of the mountains, where may be seen oranges, lemons, figs and olives grown to perfection.

Had our people energy and enterprise they would not have permitted the neighboring towns of this county to on strip them in the erection of canneries to prevent the waste of fruit, which grows here in such profusion. They do not perceive that the thousands of dollars paid for fruit and labor, all of which would be spent in the town, would go far toward building up the interests of the valley.

Another enterprise of great need is a large drier, which would use up such of our fruit as the canneries could not use and which now goes to waste, doing no good to the producer or the valley. The amount of money paid for fruit boxes every year would go a long way toward building up such establishments. This valley is now dependent on the San Francisco market, which this season has been so glutted with fruit that many shipments from here actually netted a loss to the shippers. Had we a cannery and drier we would be on the road to independence. Our merchants and mechanics would reap a large share of the benefits and brisker times would enliven the town which now sadly needs a good shaking up. WAKE UP.

Be a Boomster in the Strife.

The editor of the Napa "Register," is getting poetical. Hear him: "Tell us not in mournful numbers that the boom's a baseless dream, for the speculator slumbers if things are now not what they seem. If we have to beg or borrow, though we never hope to pay, let us buy that each to-morrow finds us richer than to-day. In the boom's broad field of battle, while the speculation's rife, give the box another rattle—be a boomster in the strife. Booms of boomsters all remind us we can make our boom sublime; and departing leave behind us dollars on the sands of Time."

Nothing but intrinsic merit can account for the enormous sales of Frese's Hamburg Tea, the demand for which is constantly increasing. The reason is obvious to all. It is a purely vegetable preparation, mild, yet efficient in its action—carrying off all impurities from the system, and imparting a glow and vigor, which only those who have used it can appreciate.

We have just received one of the prettiest songs ever written, called "There's no one like Mother to Me," by Charles A. Davies. For a nice home song, in which both the words and music are so very pretty, it is hard to equal. It can be played on the piano or organ, and will be sent to any address for only 22 1-cent stamps. Address the publishers, J. C. Greene & Co., 30 and 32 Arcade, Cincinnati, O.

Useful and Hurtful Medicines.

There is a certain class of remedies for constipation absolutely useless. There are boluses and potions made in great part of podophyllin, aloes, rhubarb, gamboge, and other worthless ingredients. The damage they do to the stomachs of those who use them is incalculable. They evacuate the bowels, it is true, but always do so violently and profusely, and besides, gripe the bowels. Their effect is to weaken both them and the stomach. Better far to use the agreeable and salutary aperient, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the laxative effect of which is never preceded by pain, or accompanied by a convulsive, violent action of the bowels. On the contrary, it invigorates those organs, the stomach and the entire system. As a means of curing and preventing malarial fevers, no medicine can compare with it, and it remedies nervous debility, rheumatism, kidney and bladder inactivity, and other inorganic ailments.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofulous Disease of the Lungs, is promptly and certainly arrested and cured by this God-given remedy, if taken before the last stages of the disease are reached. From its wonderful power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now celebrated remedy to the public, Dr. PIERCE thought seriously of calling it his "Consumption Cure," but abandoned that name as too limited for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for consumption of the lungs, but for all

CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

In many cases only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Consumption, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. Send ten cents in stamps for Dr. Pierce's book on Consumption. Sold by Druggists.

The case of Louisa Beets, et. el. vs. Julius Dresel has again been continued in Department Two of the Superior Court at Santa Rosa. It is anything how this case drags along.

Four acres in barley on the farm of Jas. McMaggin at Embarcadero, near this City of Sonoma, produced this season 380 bushels 12 pounds—an average of 95 bushels 3 pounds to the acre.

The grape crop is turning out somewhat better than was anticipated one month ago and the vintage of 1887, although falling far short of former years, will be of a most excellent quality.

Sonoma Native Sons are a manly body of young men and, as with our fruits and wines, we may well feel proud of them.

As Lew Green was coming into town, from Embarcadero, last Monday evening, in turning into Broadway near the the Hall place, his light buggy was completely overturned by one of the wheels running into a ditch while making the turn. His horse was thrown down and falling upon the shafts, one of them was broken short off. As the buggy was going over Green jumped and saved himself from injury.

Fenton, the tramp, who was sent up for thirty days by Judge Small, a month, for stealing a coil of rope from S. Schocken, was released from the Santa Rosa Jail, one day last week, having served out his sentence. He is in jail again, however. Last Monday he was arrested in the above place and charged with drunkenness and vagrancy, and upon being taken before Judge Seawell he was given eighty days in which to make the trip around the world, his sailing craft being the Santa Rosa Jail.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

A Wagon With Five Occupants Overturns on the Banks of Sonoma Creek.

As a party of five, consisting of J. B. Small, M. F. Turley, W. P. Wilson, Frank Weiler and Martin Muldry, were returning from the Petaluma races, last Wednesday evening, in a covered wagon, the vehicle was overturned at the crossing of Sonoma Creek opposite the Norris place. The road leading down into the creek at this point is very steep, and the night being quite dark, the left-hand wheels ran into the bank and without the least warning the wagon was overturned and all the occupants became wedged in between the seats and wheels of the capsized vehicle and the ground, and with one exception were unable to extricate themselves. With great presence of mind Frank Weiler, who was driving, held on to the lines and thus prevented the horses from running away and dragging the party to their death. Mr. Muldry was the first to free himself. He then succeeded in lifting one of the wheels which held Mr. Turley down and he in his turn was released. They then lent the others assistance and in a short time all were gotten out of their dangerous predicament. It is somewhat remarkable that all escaped serious injury. After the party had somewhat recovered from their severe shaking up they proceeded on their way home, none the worse for their adventure, if we except a few bruises received by each and all of the party. The wagon and horses came out unscathed.

The Eden Dale Farm.

This fine piece of property, comprising 183 acres of the choicest land in Sonoma Valley. 137 acres of which is in bearing fruit trees and vines is offered for sale in another column by Raschen & Granice, real estate agents. The price asked—$50,000—is much below its real value, as the place will pay from 15 to 20 per cent on the investment. Eden Dale is located two miles south of Sonoma, and is one of the most celebrated fruit farms in Sonoma county. A large modern dwelling, choice garden, barns, outbuildings, windmills, horses, buggies, wagons, farming tools without number, and one of the most complete fruit driers in the country goes with the place. A contract held by the firm, which will expire shortly, enables them to offer this fine piece of property at the above low figure. So those desiring to make a good investment had better be quick about it. Terms, $52,000 down, balance at 7 per cent.

German Carp.

An interesting feature of the Sonoma Valley Exhibit at the Mechanics' Fair is the German carp fish pond. This celebrated fish was introduced into the United States by the late J. A. Poppe of this place in August, 1872, at which time he brought five small carp from Reinfeld, Holstein, and placed them in his ponds on the Popula Rancho, near this place. These increased and multiplied so rapidly that in a few years Mr. Poppe was enabled to distribute these carp to all parts of the Pacific Coast, Central America, Mexico and the Hawaiian Islands. Thus it will be seen that the credit of introducing this excellent fish into our waters belongs to Sonoma Valley.

The Boom.

In anticipation of a land boom real estate men have been springing up everywhere the past week. The valley is full of 'em. To those who desire to place their properties in reliable and responsible hands we would say call on Raschen & Granice. This firm is identified with the interests of Sonoma Valley and will use every endeavor to dispose of any property placed in their hands at a fair figure. Parties desiring to buy are invited to call and see list of property and prices.

Concert by the Brass Band.

The Sonoma Brass Band will give its first free concert in the City Pavilion to-morrow. In the absence of a music stand this is the best the band boys can do for the present, but it is expected the City Trustees will shortly erect a covered platform on the outside of the building so that all may be enabled to enjoy these concerts, which will be made doubly attractive if given in the open air. The concert to-morrow will commence at 1.30 o'clock. Following is the programme:

2. Overture, "Crown of Victory,"..... Ripley

A GUN WITH A HISTORY.

Col. McKenzie's Musket---How it Came into His Possession.

Among the many interesting relics in the Sonoma Valley Exhibit, now on exhibition at the Mechanics' Fair, San Francisco, is a musket belonging to Col. J. W. McKenzie, late Sergeant Co. A., Second Artillery, U. S. A. (in Mexico) and late Col. First Artillery, National Guard of Cal. The history of the musket, as told by Col. McKenzie, is as follows: "I was at the storming of the gates of San Cosme, September 13, 1847. My piece of artillery, a 12-pound howitzer, was moved forward to a small earthwork within 200 yards of the works of San Cosme. Most of my men were killed or disabled and having but five rounds of grape shot left, I sent two men, all that I had left, to the rear for ammunition. I had fired the last round of the five alone, when an infantry soldier came from his place of shelter under the arches of the Grand Acqueduct to assist me in my peril, and whilst crossing the road toward my piece, he was shot dead. I immediately ran to him and picked up his musket, and in doing so I was struck by a musket-ball (that had plowed the ground first) slightly on the back of my left hand. I then unbuckled his cartridge-box, which was nearly empty, and returned to my gun. It was there that I used that musket against the enemy, whilst I was waiting for ammunition."

Cannery and Fruit Drier.

Do our people realize the mine of wealth that lies in those two industries? The question will be asked: "Who is to start them here?" I will answer by citing the case of our neighboring city of Petaluma. There, bankers, merchants and capitalists, who were far seeing enough to realize the benefit it would be to the place, incorporated and took stock in the company. They had other business and did not engage in the enterprise for themselves alone, but for the general good, and it was not long after they had the enterprise fairly started among them, when they found men with capital to buy them out. I see by their papers that the Petaluma Cannery pays out for labor each week $2,±00. The packing season lasts for over four months—seventeen weeks—17 times 2400 is $40,800 for labor. This is spent and turned over among themselves and is so much created capital. The fruit put up amounts to a large sum paid out to producers. This is also mostly spent in the place among merchants, mechanics and laboring men, which is also turned over and over. The employment given to women and children among us in this industry would be a boon to them, and would provide comfort which the father and brother cannot afford to give them. Give us these industries and the town will get such a send off that the oldest inhabitant would open his eyes at the change wrought in so short a space of time. Will not some of our principal citizens stir in this matter? PUSH.

Railroad News.

The "Call" of Monday contains the following in relation to the Donahue extension of the Sonoma Valley Railroad: "In reference to the line in course of construction from Pachseco to Sears Point, H. C. Whiting, Superintendent of the Donahue system, in conversation with a "Call" reporter yesterday stated that the line had been graded almost the entire distance, and that pile driving for the bridge across Petaluma Creek to Sears Point commenced yesterday. The Sonoma Valley line will be extended to Los Guilucos, though no work has yet been done there. When the line connecting the Sonama line with the main system is completed, the entire freight of both roads will be moved from Point Tiburon. Mr. Whiting stated the no surveys were being made for the construction of a line to Napa. The rail throughout the whole system from Point Tiburon to Cloverdale is being changed, a heavy steel rail being substituted for that in use at persent. All of the old track iron that is serviceable will be used on the extensions."

FAREWELL PARTY.

A Most Successful and Enjoyable Affair---Those Present.

On last Monday evening the many friends of Mr. J. J. Wystyrk met at Weyl's Hall and tendered him a farewell party, the occasion being his departure for Santa Rosa, which in the future will be his home. By 9 o'clock the large hall, which had been handsomely decorated by a committee of ladies having the affair in charge, presented a scene of mirth and animation. During the evening the Sonoma Brass Band in full uniform filed into the hall and after playing several selections, the Drum Major, Mr. E. J. Mullin, on behalf of the members of the band, made a neat speech in which he regretted the departure of so valuable a member of the band and thanking Mr. Wystyrk for the interest he had manifested in its welfare and wishing him success in his new home. Mr. Wystyrk stepped forward and after a graceful military salute, made a few appropriate remarks, thanking the band boys for their kind wishes. The band then filed out of the hall. Dancing was then renewed until 12 o'clock, when supper was announced. This had been prepared by the ladies of Sonoma Valley, and it is needless to add that it was all that could be desired. At the banquet table speeches were made by Gen. M. G. Vallejo and Mr. Wystyrk. Dancing was kept up until a late hour and the gathering was a highly successful one. All those present were charmed with the provision made for their pleasure.

Among those present were the following: Capt. and Mrs. Stofen, Mr. and Mrs. Riser, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Albertson, Mr. and Mrs. C H Ward, Mr. and Mrs. E. McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cornelius, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Batchelder, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Weems, Mr. and Mrs. H H. Granice. Mesdames C. C. Carriger, A Cassanhohm, B. D. Moore, S. Wessel, B. F. King. Personal and Social.

Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Barra of San Francisco were in town Sunday.

Mrs. K. Keogh of Merced is visiting her daughter Mrs. H. H. Granice.

Mr. Fred Ewell and wife are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. F. Ewell, of this city.

Rev. H. H. Wikoff, pastor of the Congregational Church of this city, has returned home after a month's vacation.

Mrs. Emma Eschbach left for Pacific Grove, Monterey, last Tuesday morning, where she goes as a delegate to the M. E. Conference which convened at that place on Wednesday.

The ice cream social given at Weyl's Hall, last Wednesday evening, for the benefit of the Congregational Church, was a most enjoyable affair. The programme was excellent and was heartily enjoyed by a large audience. Mrs. O. B. Shaw, who had the arrangements in hand, understands how to manage affairs of this kind and hence its success. The receipts of the ice cream booth for exceeded her most sanguine expectations.

The ladies of the M. E. Church held another of their highly interesting socials at Weyl's Hall, on Thursday evening of last week, a very large audience being present. During the evening the pastor, Rev. E. H. King, was presented with a large autograph quilt by the ladies of the Church. Among those who took part in the programme were Miss Lucie Freis and Miss Ida B. Ewing, both young ladies acquitting themselves admirably.

In Brief, and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestion apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order. Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

I was a great sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation. I had no appetite, and was constantly afflicted with Headache and Dizziness. I consulted our family doctor, who prescribed for me, at various times, without affording more than temporary relief. I finally commenced taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time my digestion and appetite my bowels were regulated, and, by the time I finished two boxes of these Pills my tendency to headaches had disappeared, and I became strong and well.—Darius M. Logan, Wilmington, Del.

I was troubled, for over a year, with Loss of Appetite, and General Debility. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and, before finishing half a box of this medicine, my appetite and strength were restored.—C. O. Clark, Danbury, Conn.

Ayer's Pills are the best medicine known to me for regulating the bowels, and for all diseases caused by a disordered Stomach and Liver. I suffered for over three years with Headache, Indigestion, and Constipation. I had no appetite, and was weak and nervous most of the time.

BY USING

three boxes of Ayer's Pills, and at the same time dieting myself, I was completely cured. My digestive organs are now in good order, and I am in perfect health.—P. Lockwood, Topeka, Kans.

Ayer's Pills have benefited me wonderfully. For months I suffered from Indigestion and Headache, was restless at night, and had a bad taste in my mouth every morning. After taking one box of Ayer's Pills, all these troubles disappeared, my food digested well, and my sleep was refreshing.—Henry C. Hemmenway, Rockport, Mass.

I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only relieved me of that painful disorder, but give me increased vigor, and restored my health.—John Lazarus, St. John, N. B. ††

SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE.
SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1887.

Indians at Haskell Institute.

The native traits pre lominate still, although they are far from their tribal influences. Stoicism is a marked quality, and one that has come to them from their ancestry, and is not the result of teaching. "They never cry out," said the superintendent, "however much they may be injured. Yesterday that boy there ran a pitchfork through his foot. It must have been intensely painful, but he never even whimpered. His wound must hurt today, but he is at work from his own choice, and there is no expression of suffering on his face. That other boy with his leg done up in bandages, a day or two since spilled a pan of scalding water over his leg, and must have suffered immeasurable pain; but he gave no sign, and has voluntarily gone on with his work as usual. The sick in the hospital are equally stoical to pain; no matter how much they suffer, they endure it like sick dogs. In his agony a sick boy will bite through his lips, and never allow a sound to escape him. They take their medicine quietly and always as if grateful for the service." In speaking of the sick, the superintendent remarked that the main diseases with which they are attacked are scrofulous in their nature, and that they have a tendency to weak lungs, with the consequence that the deaths are large—nearly or quite 50 per cent. of the whole—and that they die rapidly and with apparent ease.—Lawrence (Kan.) Cor. Chicago Times.

Nicknames for German Regiments.

To take the collective list first, the guards are designated "Hammel," or sheep. The cavalry carries the infantry, as a body, by the alternative names of "sand-hares," "sand-carriers," and "cloth hoppers." The infantry invariably speak of the cavalry as "grooms." The guards call soldiers of the line "field-rats." The cuirassiers are known as "flour sacks," the hussars as "pack-threads," the artillery as "cow-soldiers," and the pioneers as "moles." Coming to separate corps in the guard, the first regiment of foot are called "tin heads," because of the color of their helmet; the First grenadiers are the "potato peelers;" the chasseur are "green frogs;" and the huzzars are "glow-worms," the uniform of the first being green, and that of the second scarlet. The third uhlans are "dusties," because of the dull yellow of the facings on their tunics, and the pioneers are "earth-worms." In the infantry of the line the men of the Eighth are "cracknel guard," an allusion to the yellow knot of their epaulets, and those of the Twenty-seventh are the "cobblers," because they are said to patch their uniforms almost as long as they will hold together. In the cavalry the Seventh cuirassiers are the "waitesmiths;" the First huzzars are "death's heads" (their shako bears this emblem); the Fourth huzzars are the "patridges," so called on account of their brown uniforms.—Brooklyn Eagle.

American Millionaires' Homes.

To Englishmen it is a matter of astonishment that so few Americans of wealth seem to appreciate the pleasures of a country life. With the exception of a few places on the Hudson river, there are no large residences which rise above the rank of villas. This is the more extraordinary, as the number of Americans possessing an annual income of over £20,000 is very large, and would probably be found to surpass those that England could produce. It is a matter also of notoriety that she possesses millionaires whose incomes double and treble those of the plutocracy of Great Britain.

These same men are content to spend thousands in erecting residences at Newport or Lenox, which they call "cottages," sometimes (especially in the former place) on small plots of ground, hardly an acre in extent, and overlooked by their neighbors. For these little plots of ground they have to give exorbitant prices, sometimes even as much as £2,000 an acre, while within easy distance of New York and Boston there are vast tracts of the most beautiful, mountainous, well-wooded country, which can be bought for a song. In one of the most lovely districts of New Hampshire land can be obtained for 30 shillings an acre. In many places, owing to the competition of the west, the eastern farmers are throwing up their farms and migrating westward. There being often no demand for these farms, the lands are sometimes deserted, and can be obtained almost for the asking.—Lord Brabazon in Time.

Light for Industrial Purposes.

What promises to be a useful light for industrial purposes where work has to be carried on in the open or in large covered spaces by night, is described by the English Steam Users' Journal. The light consists of a cylindrical vessel capable of containing thirty gallons of heavy hydrocarbon oil. Air under a moderate pressure is conducted to the cylinder, which is fitted with a special burner having two tubes, one within the other, leading up to it. The inner tube dips into the creosote, and the pressure of air on the latter forces it up to the tube. A portion of the air finds its way to the burner through the annular space between the inner and outer tubes, and the air and oil combining at the burner form, when ignited by a match, a flame which gives a light that is useful for general working purposes over a radius of 150 to 200 yards. The proportions used to form the proper light are four of air to one of oil by volume. The jet, being produced under pressure, is not affected by either wind or rain.—Frank Leslie's.

Mistaken Acts of Kindness.

Among the English working classes there is a very prevalent notion that it is always an act of kindness to ply infants and children with all kinds of food and drink. "Give the baby a bit" or "let us tak a drop" are phrases often addressed by the fond father to the mother. In this way an ignorant father and mother of Birmingham have unwittingly killed nine out of eleven children. They gave an infant 10 months old great quantities of red herring, and during its subsequent illness they would wake it up to give it huge messes of stewed eels. Of course the herring and the eels finished the hapless infant, and the "crowner" was called in to sit on it, in due and ample form.—New York Tribune.

Mystery About Base Ball Umpires.

The rules governing umpires forbid a decision to be changed, whether right or wrong. In some cases umpires are weak in enforcing their decisions and are disposed to change them if there is "kicking." As soon as the players and spectators see that an umpire can be made to weaken as to his decision, he gets himself into hot water, and he might as well give up, for every time he makes a decision there will be a yell for him to change it. One of the mysteries about umpires is that they will umpire a game one day and give general satisfaction, and on the next day they will umpire a game between the same clubs, and before almost the same crowd, so badly that the crowd will be ready to mob them. Lovers of base ball in one city will go wild over an umpire, and in the next city he will be glad to get away whole.—New York Sun.

A Terrible Surgical Operation

A FATAL MISTAKE.

THE Cleveland (Ohio) Press, of February 23d, 1883, published an account of a fatal surgical operation which caused a great commotion among medical men throughout the whole country, Dr. Thayer, the most eminent surgeon in Cleveland, pronouncing it scandalous. It appears that a Mrs. King had been suffering for many years from some disease of the stomach, which had resisted the treatment of all the physicians in attendance. The disease commenced with a slight derangement of the digestion, with a poor appetite, followed by a peculiar indescribable distress in the stomach, a feeling that has been described as a faint "all gone" sensation, a sticky slime collecting about the teeth, causing a disagreeable taste. This sensation was not removed by food, but, on the contrary, it was increased. After a while the hands and feet became cold and sticky—a cold perspiration. There was a constant tired and lanquid feeling. Then followed a painful nervousness, with gloomy forebodings. Finally the patient was unable to retain any food whatever, and there was constant pain in the abdomen. All prescribed remedies failing to give relief, a consultation was held, when it was decided that the patient had a cancer in the stomach, and in order to save the patient's life an operation was justifiable. Accordingly, on the 22d of February, 1883, the operation was performed by Dr. Vance in the presence of Dr. Tuckerman, Dr. Perrier, Dr. Arms, Dr. Gordon, Dr. Capner, and Dr. Halliwell of the Police Board. The operation consisted in laying open the cavity of the abdomen and exposing the stomach and bowels. When this had been done an examination of the organs was made, but to the horror and dismay of the doctors there was no cancer to be found. The patient did not have a cancer. When too late the medical men discovered that they had made a terrible mistake; but they sewed the parts together and dressed the wound that they had made, but the poor woman sank from exhaustion and died in a few hours. How sad it must be for the husband of this poor woman to know that his wife died from the effects of a surgical operation that ought never to have been performed. If this woman had taken the proper remedy for Dyspepsia and Nervous Prostration (for this was what the disease really was), she would have been living to-day. SHAKER EXTRACT OF ROOTS, or SEIGEL'S CURATIVE SYRUP, a remedy made expressly for Dyspepsia or Indigestion, has restored many such cases to perfect health after all other kinds of treatment have failed. The evidence of its efficacy in curing this class of cases is too voluminous to be published here; but those who read the published evidence in favor of this dyspeptic remedy do not question its convincing nature, and the article has an extensive sale.

Mexican War Veteran.

The wonderful efficacy of Swift's Specific as a remedy and cure for rheumatism and all blood diseases, has never had a more conspicuous illustration than this case affords. The candid, unsolicited and emphatic testimony given by the venerable gentleman must be accepted as convincing and conclusive. The writer is a prominent citizen of Mississippi. The gentleman to whom Mr. Martin refers, and to whom he is indebted for the advice to which he owes his final relief from years of suffering, is Mr. King, for many years the popular night clerk of the Lawrence House, at Jackson.

JACKSON, Miss., April 29, 1887.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC COMPANY, Atlanta, Ga.:

Gentlemen—I have been an invalid pensioner for forty years, having contracted pulmonary and other diseases in the Mexican War, but not till the 1st of March, 1878, did I feel any symptoms of rheumatism. On that day I was suddenly stricken with that disease in both hips and ankles. For twenty days I walked on crutches. Then the pain was less violent, but it shifted from joint to joint. For weeks I would be totally disabled, either on one side of my body or the other. The pain never left me a moment for eleven years and seven months—that is from March 1, 1878, when I was first attacked, to October 1, 1889, when I was cured. During these eleven years of intense suffering I tried innumerable prescriptions from various physicians, and tried everything suggested by friends, but if I ever received the least benefit from any medicine taken internally or externally, I am not aware of it. Finally, about the first of September, I made arrangements to go to the Hot Springs of Arkansas, having despaired of every other remedy, when I accidentally met an old acquaintance, Mr. King, now of the Lawrence House of this city. He had once been a great sufferer from rheumatism, and, as I supposed, had been cured by a visit to Hot Springs. But when I met him he told me that his visit to the Hot Springs was in vain—he found no relief. On his return from Hot Springs he heard, for the first time, of the S. S. S. as a remedy for rheumatism. He tried it and six bottles made a complete cure. Several years have passed since, but he has had no return of the disease.

I immediately returned to try it. In September I took four bottles, and by the first of October I was well—as far as the rheumatism was concerned. All pain had disappeared, and I HAVE NOT FELT A TWINGE OF IT SINCE.

I have no interest in making this statement other than the hope that it may direct some other sufferer to a sure source of relief, and if it has this result I am well rewarded for my trouble. I am very respectfully and truly your friend.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

"A LOCAL PREACHER.

"San Francisco, Cal."

"I feel like sounding its praise on the housetops.

"HON. CHAS. A. SUMNER."

WON'T BLISTER.—Calorie Vita Oil takes the place of all pain killing lotions or liniments, poultices or blisters, and while its penetrating, healing and vital action is tenfold more powerful than either, it will not chafe or blister.

Dr. J. Winchester, Columbia, Cal., says: "I have used Vita Oil with the most beneficial results; can endorse without hesitation your claim. As a family remedy for the relief of pain it has no equal in the world. In our household it has become indispensable."

"With a thankful heart I acknowledge the great merit of Dr. Smith's Calorie Vita Oil. I have suffered over 30 years with bronchitis and was seriously threatened with lung disease. I had tried all remedies and all climates with occasional temporary relief, but no cure. The use of two small bottles made me a sound man.

"A BANK OFFICER."

A prominent druggist in San Francisco:—"We hazard nothing in saying it is the best pain curer and healing remedy ever used or known. It acts quickly, promptly and certainly in relieving pain. Hundreds of sufferers have been relieved by it, to the wonder of thousands of their friends. Its sales have doubled nearly every month."

"It will do the heaviest work of any medicine I ever handled, and quick, too."
